No. 180.

SATURDAY, MARCH 10, 1900.

In his speech at New York a few evenings ago President McKinley said: "There can be no imperialism." The action of Congress upon the Porto Rican tariff bill is the rankest kind of imperialism. An eloquent disclaimer of imperialism in campaign speeches cannot hide the evidences of imperialism in fact.

As the Clark local option bill approaches a vote in the Senate, there are evidences that several of the Senators are in very poor health and likely to be totally incapacitated from attending the sessions at any time. The moral cowardice of a party that wants to please the temperance people without offending the saloon vote, is becoming more and more conspicuous at Columbus every day.

Two weeks ago, when it was thought the President was still in favor of his "plain duty" message to Congress upon the Porto Rican question, one of the prominent Republican clubs of New York adopted a resolution endorsing the President's position, and condemning the action of the trusts in trying to influence Congress to tax the products of the starving Porto Ricans. Now that the President is himself upon the side of the trusts, the people would be interested in again hearing from the New York club.

One of Ohio's State Senators is going to propose, as a substitute for the Clark local option bill, the establishment of a state institution for persons who are suffering from the excessive use of intoxicating liquors. This proposition ought to appeal to the temperance people with unusual force, and no doubt they will cease all further efforts to pass the local option bill since they have been assured that the inebriates will be well taken care of at the public expense.

According to a dispatch to the Democrat from Columbus, Secretary of State Kinney has declined to issue a certificate allowing the Sewer Pipe Trust Company to do business in Ohio until the Attorney General informs him that the company is not organized in violation of the Ohio anti-trust law. The Secretary of State suspects that the sewer pipe trust may be a trust, and he is very anxious to prevent a corporation of that character from operating in Ohio. As the Sewer Pipe Trust is an Akron institution, the people of Akron can't help wondering who is pulling the strings upon the Secretary of State. For of the more than 500 trusts that exist in America, nine-tenths of them operate in Ohio, and up to date who has heard of the Secretary of State entering a protest in behalf of the people. The Sewer Pipe Trust, if not the weakest, is at least the youngest of the whole trust brood, and perhaps this accounts for the desire of Secretary Kinney to do something that will attract attention to his sturdy efforts to restrict the trust nuisance.

A COLLEGE PRESIDENT WITH OPINIONS

Since Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University, declared in an interview at Cleveland that the people will repudiate the action of the Administration on the taxation of trade with Porto Rico, he has been abused by every Administration organ from New York to California. Another thing Dr. Jordan predicted was the repudiation of President McKinley and his imperialistic notions. Here is what President Jordan said in addressing the University club at Cleveland last Tuesday evening:

"The theory of American imperialism exemplified in the taxation of trade with Porto Rico, is the most dangerous and subversive since the theory of secession. It will be repudiated by the American people, as it ought to be."

In defining the difference between expansion and imperialism President Jordan said:

"Expansion is the extension of the borders of the United States, by extending all the rights and duties of American citizenship to dwellers in lands outside of our former limits. Imperialism is the control by our government, Congress, President or Supreme Court, of people not possessing citizenship in the United States."

"Expansion is a question of policy simply. I think it unwise, so far as the Philippines are concerned, undesirable to Cuba and Porto Rico, but not criminal unless attained by criminal means."

"Imperialism is an attack on the fundamental principles of our government as well as of sound morals. It involves the theory that the President or Congress has powers not delegated by the people, not warranted by the constitution. The same is true of Congress, which is a creation of the constitution, receiving through it all its delegated powers, and having no others. If we have any people or possessions not under the constitution, they are not ours, and neither President nor Congress can have any jurisdiction over them. These servants of the people cannot go where the constitution has not granted authority delegated by the people."

"To suppose that the actions of Congress or the President are valid where the constitution is not unshakable."

President Jordan, while addressing a meeting of the Teachers' association in Association hall, said:

"I believe that the blood of a nation determines its character, and war, more than any other agency, destroys its vitality. Whenever we see the Anglo-Saxon races entering a country we may expect to see on the one hand wise, humane and civilizing forces exerted, and on the other the most brutal, selfish and mercenary motives. Aristocracy, slavery, militarism and imperialism are the arch enemies of progress and civilization."

"The coming century will see the fall of the English empire as surely as the past has witnessed the fall of Spain, and much for the same reason. The English will have spent the best of their blood in war and the empire will decay as other empires have done before it. That little nation of Boers will never be the same again because her bravest men will be gone."

"War is the greatest agent in the degeneracy of the human race. The men who go to war are selected from the best physical types of nations, and who can tell how much nations lose by the loss of these men without descendants? The great Civil War, in which more than 1,000,000 Americans fell, was a tremendous setback to this country. Many once great families are no longer prominent. Their men fell in war."

"That resolute statesman, Governor Roosevelt of New York, says 'war is strengthening.' If war is so good and has such beneficial effects as he would have us believe, why should we allow any of these good effects to get outside this country? Why not have a little Civil War of our own between Illinois and New York, two states which seem most affected by peace? We could appoint our aldermen and politicians as pastboard officers, such as were named in the late war, and possibly the community would suffer no great loss if they fell."

"It used to be the Anglo-Saxon policy 'never to bully a little boy nor turn your back on a big one.' Our policy now seems to be 'never bully a big boy nor turn your back on a little one.' War is not a factor in growth; it is simply an outgrowth of barbarism. The remedy for human ills comes in peace."

That Sewer Pipe Trust

Violated the Ohio Anti-Trust Laws

In Its Articles of Incorporation.

Attorney General Will Make Investigation

And Prepare an Opinion Upon the Subject.

Columbus, March 10.—(Spl.)—Secretary of State Kinney on Friday told a representative of the American Clay Manufacturing company that he believes the company's articles of incorporation violate the Ohio Anti-Trust law and that he could not issue the certificate allowing the corporation to do business in Ohio, without first securing an opinion from the Attorney General.

The articles in question authorize the company to purchase stock in other companies and to exercise all rights of ownership over them. Attorney General Sheets said last evening that, upon very immature consideration, he does not believe the company can legally be admitted to Ohio. He will make a thorough investigation and prepare an opinion upon the subject.

The trust was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey and nearly all of the large tile and sewer-pipe companies of Ohio have identified themselves with it.

That is the way we do, we give you the names of people living in this state, who have used Morrow's Kid-ne-olds for back-ache and kidney troubles, because we want you to consult these people about the good Kid-ne-olds have done them.

Mr. Owen Fagan, Wooster st., Bowling Green, Ohio, says: "I was greatly troubled with a severe pain across the small of my back and right hip. I was not able to attend to my work. A NOTED JUDGE SAVED BY PERUNA

Had Catarrh Nine Years—All Doctors Failed.

HON. GEORGE KERSTEN, OF CHICAGO.

Hon. Geo. Kersten, a well-known Justice of the Peace of Chicago, says: "I was afflicted with catarrh for nine years. My catarrh was located chiefly in my head. I tried many remedies without avail. I applied to several doctors, but they were not able to cure me. I learned of the remedy, Peruna, through the daily newspapers. After taking the remedy for 15 weeks I was entirely cured. I consider my 'permanence' as it has been two and a half years since I was cured." The Governor of Oregon is an ardent admirer of Peruna. He keeps it continually in the house. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman he says: "I have had occasion to use your Peruna medicine in my family for colds, and it proved to be an excellent remedy. I have not had occasion to use it for other ailments."

Yours very truly, W. M. Lord.

Peruna is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Letters of congratulation and commendation, testifying to the merits of Peruna as a catarrh remedy are pouring in from every State in the Union.

Dr. Hartman is receiving hundreds of such letters daily. All classes write these letters, from the highest to the lowest.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well-nigh universal; almost omnipresent. Peruna is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. To prevent colds, to cure colds, is to cheat catarrh out of its victims. Peruna not only cures catarrh, but prevents it.

road companies and the India Rubber Company relative to a grade crossing for the use of the rubber company. The railroad companies would agree only to such plans as would obviate all necessity for public or private travel across the tracks, or the maintaining of gates. But final plans have harmonized everything. The rubber company has a private driveway that runs east of the railroad tracks. This will be used, and the approach to the viaduct will be at Price Alley. For safety between the railroad tracks and the driveway.

The Mill street viaduct will be almost 1,000 long, extending from Summit st. to Price alley. It will be 21 feet above the railroad tracks.

Work of constructing the viaduct will likely be commenced this spring.
